Odds and Ends

We had a slew of folks come out and participate on the ride out to Hermann Son Steakhouse in Hondo. A few folks followed us in a cage and we had a couple meet us at the Restaurant. Pretty much evenly divided between 3 and 2 wheelers. As always, service and dinner there was great with a full menu to choose from. Great way to start off a weekend! It was a tad warm departing from Caliente but isn't that what "caliente" means? Evening ride back was excellent as the fireball in the sky had gone behind a layer of clouds and of course with us heading East, it wasn't in our eyes. It was actually below the horizon by the time we hit 1604. I think a number of us were contemplating staying out a tad longer to ride and I think a few did as we were KSD from the restaurant. Traffic was light but of course the road had a number of cheap f'tards from areas south of Dallas who didn't want to spend the extra $100 to have turn signals installed on their cars but what else is new? For those of you who didn't show, no soup for you! It was a good consolidation ride vice us heading to "Alamogordoconvectionovenridingintohell" that would have occurred had we not postponed that ride until later in the fall. Next big event I believe is the Picnic. Be sure to review the Calientegram for details. Lori and I will say our summer goodbyes at the Picnic but we will see you in the fall. Regards and safe riding to all of you.
